

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATION

To be considered for an International Student Scholarship, you must complete this application and submit it with your application for admission. Applications submitted without documentation will not be considered. Scholarship notifications are mailed to applicants at the time of admission.

Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University considers citizens of all nations for scholarship assistance based on academic merit and on demonstrated financial need. Scholarships are reviewed and awarded on an annual basis for up to four years for a baccalaureate degree, and for up to two years for a master's degree, provided that the student continues to show financial need and makes satisfactory academic progress. Annual increases or awards are not available.

In addition to scholarships, international students may apply for on-campus employment and may work up to 20 hours per week while school is in session. The University also offers a unique co-operative internship program for undergraduate students in certain majors.

U.S. citizens and permanent residents who reside outside of the USA are also eligible to apply for an international scholarship and may also be considered for state or federal financial assistance.

Deadline: International scholarship applications received prior to July 1 will receive priority consideration for the academic year beginning with the fall semester. Applications submitted after this date will still be considered; however, scholarship winners may receive smaller awards than if they had applied earlier. Applications for the spring semester should be submitted by December 1.
